Kite Base, a two-piece band consisting of bass guitarists Ayse Hassan (Savages) and Kendra Frost, have unveiled the video to Miracle Waves, the latest track to be taken from their forthcoming debut album, Latent Whispers, which is released tomorrow, Friday May 26th 2017 on Little Something.

The 9-track album can be ordered now via Pledge Music

Additionally, having recently played a sold-out show at London's Kamio and announced a headline UK tour in June, the band have also confirmed they will be appearing at this year's Glastonbury Festival. They also are set to appear on the Crack Stage at this year's Field Day.

The full list of dates is as follows:

JUNE

Tickets for their headline shows are one sale via the band's website, kitebase.pmstores.co/tickets

Recent praise for Latent Whispers:

Slick yet spiky, polished yet pleasingly raw feeling songs – Loud & Quiet

Pairing the early-90s slouch of Sonic Youth and PJ Harvey with the clatter and fizz of a drum machine – Uncut

Kite Base's vision flies high, caught on a gust of ideas – DIY
