Martha Ffion

Wallflower

Glasgow based artist Martha Ffion releases her second single for Turnstile today, Wallflower. The 60s soaked, guitar lead track is another glimpse at this intriguing talent, following on from her Turnstile debut 'So Long'. Classic 60s style song writing, combined with a tougher edge (think Sharon Van Etten, Cate Le Bon) result in a refreshing contemporary sound, fully justifying the support Martha Ffion has already received from Marc Riley and Mary Anne Hobbs on 6music and Huw Stephens on R1.

With GoldFlakePaint citing Martha Ffion as “an artist that seems ready-made for wider acclaim”, this tour is a chance to see one of the most promising young artists around.

Clare Martha Ffion McKay, who performs under her middle names, recently released her debut single for Turnstile, 'So Long' last year. This February sees her set off on a 6 date UK tour, playing the following dates:
